2023/24 SEASON

by Horton Foote October 20-November 5

From the celebrated screenwriter of To Kill a Mockingbird, this play tells the story of Carrie Watts, a woman who longs to return to her childhood home of Bountiful, Texas, which she hasn't seen in 20 years. A play about family, love, and obligation... and the journeys that define us.

American Premiere by Jordi Mand November 30 - December 10

A beautiful intersection of art and family: the story of the Brontë sisters: Charlotte, Emily, and Anne during the period in which they wrote masterpieces such as Jane Eyre, Wuthering Heights, and The Tenant of Wildfell Hall. But, as ambitious women in the 1800s, their pioneering literary careers do not come without costs.

A CASE FOR THE EXISTENCE OF GOD

IAN 19 - FEB 4

by Samuel D. Hunter

Jánuary 19-February 4 A prescient meditation on human resilience from the playwright and screenwriter of last year's Academy Awardwinning film The Whale. Set inside a small office in southern Idaho, two men meet to go through the confusing and often maddening application process for a loan. But while facts are seemingly cut and dry, relationships are not so simple.

THE MOUNTAINTOP

FEB 23 - MAR 10

by Katori Hall February 23 - March 10

From Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Katori Hall comes this gripping re-imagination of the night before the assassination of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in 1968. Dr. King has just delivered his seminal "I've Been to the Mountaintop" speech, when he retires to the Lorraine Motel. A mysterious stranger arrives, pressing him to confront his destiny and consider what his legacy will mean for America.

World Premiere by Aaron Pang April 18-28

Solo writer-performer, and current MFA candidate in Nonfiction Writing at the Writers Workshop, Aaron Pang's autobiographical play present the accident that changed the trajectory of his life. Who are stories for: the listener – or for the person sharing their truth?
